MESSRS. EDITORS:—The whigs at their Convention last week, evinced a liberal and honest regard for the interests of the Mechanics, who are contending against the odious system of State Prison monopoly. The whigs have nominated as one of their Candidates for Members of Assembly, JOSIAH LETCHWORTH. This satisfies us that the whigs mean to act in good faith towards the mechanics. Mr. LETCHWORTH is an intelligent and honest mechanic. He is a saddle and harness maker by trade. The whig ticket will now receive the support of all the WHIG MECHANICS.

Sarah Kitchen 1657 in England – 1709. Daughter of Thomas Kitchen Sr. Sister of William Kitchen. Sarah Kitchen was born around 1657 in England.She was the daughter of Thomas Kitchen and his first wife, not Mary Mace, whom he only married in 1685. Sarah Kitchen emigrated to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, with her father, Thomas Kitchen, in 1683. There she first married a man named John Goodwin on May 3, 1684. He must have died shortly after their wedding as no children were mentioned and she remarried just 3 years later.
Both Sarah Kitchen and her 2nd husband, George Smedley had emigrated to the Quaker-led colony. This marriage strengthens the supposition by some genealogists that Thomas Kitchen also came from Derbyshire, England.

Sarah Kitchen and George Smedley's children were:

1. Thomas Smedley,
2. Mary Smedley Edge,
3. George Smedley-born Jan 2, 1693,d. on Nov 20, 1766, m.Jane Sharples 1696-1725 in 1717 in Pennsylvania and had a son -George Smedley1719-1766,

John Cox; was born about 1645, probably in Berkshire, England and had become a Quaker, a member of the Religious Society of Friends. He attended the Abingdon and Drayton Monthly Meetings in the jurisdiction of Newbury, Berkshire, England. Notes of the Berkshire Quaker Meetings indicates that he was a blacksmith.

Quakerism arose during the 1650s, a time of political and religious upheaval in England and Wales. In 1646, Parliament radically reformed the Church of England by removing bishops from power and handing more authority over church affairs to local congregations.

Rachel (Carr) Cox; was born about 1660 in England. Their children were born sometime between 1688 and 1699, based on their christening dates. Rachel could've been much younger than her husband. She married John Cox in 1688. They had seven children during their marriage. She died on October 4, 1735, in Pennsylvania, at the age of 66. (Profile has a mismash of death dates, should be cleaned up, 1736, 1735, 1701 are listed on profile right now. I don't object to Find A Grave as source but other Bio references should be consistent or marked as Unknown.) Nothing on her family.

To be noted that there was controversy over who John Cox and Rachel Embree Carr were. Some of their children could have included:
Child 1: John Cox Jr.
Child 2. Richard Cox 1688-1762.
Child 3: Richard Cox
Child 4. Sarah Cox Leech.
Child 5. Ann Cox - married 1st- Nathan Hussey-341, married 2nd - Casparius Garretson-40,
